M.J.M. Capital Inc. Announces Sponsorship of FundingUtah.com

PROVO, Utah--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 3, 2005--M.J.M. Capital (www.mjmcapitalinc.com) has entered into a one-year renewable sponsorship agreement with FundingUtah.com (www.fundingutah.com). The goal of the sponsorship is to increase the visibility of the services M.J.M. Capital can provide companies in Utah and surrounding states. Though M.J.M. Capital conducts business from coast to coast, the company would like to strengthen its presence in the Intermountain region.

M.J.M. Capital provides financing for businesses in the form of equipment leases, working capital and other structured financing. M.J.M. Capital has successfully worked with publicly traded companies, venture-backed firms, along with established large and small privately held companies. FundingUtah.com was founded in 2005 by Paul Allen, founder of two Inc. 500 companies, MyFamily.com and Infobases Inc., and David Bradford, a seasoned venture capitalist, to help Utah's entrepreneurs and investors achieve their goals.

Joshua Case, President/CEO of M.J.M. Capital, said, "We are very excited to work with such a dynamic business resource in FundingUtah.com. With this new relationship M.J.M. Capital's services will be more readily available to local early-stage, growth, and established companies seeking an alternative to financing their business strictly with equity offerings and bank loans bearing restrictive covenants."

Jeff Jordan, Marketing Director at FundingUtah.com, said, "We're grateful for M.J.M. Capital's sponsorship and look forward to a continued business relationship with them in the future. Joshua Case has done some fantastic work helping businesses find the material capital they need to bring their companies to the next level. We're thrilled to be working with him."
